

TELEPHONE CALLS, Tuesday, March 31, 1959, ^{gks} _{6:5}

10:05 - The British Ambassador telephoned to say Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd's plane had been delayed and would not arrive until about 11:20, so he doubted Lloyd could make his 12:00 appointment with CAH. Agreed to make it 2:30, which would give Lloyd 15 minutes before the tripartite meeting started. (2) Caccia said he understands the French have produced a new contingency formula which is 180 degrees different from the previous ones; imagines it is de Gaulle himself who did it; thinks it will probably be the principal subject Lloyd will wish to discuss. CAH said Couve de Murville is coming in at 11:00 and will probably discuss it. (3) CAH said he assumes the British will wish to postpone the diplomatic talks on nuclear testing until their experts have had a chance to go over with ours in the scientific field the material. Caccia said their experts are arriving tonight, will see Killian tomorrow, and probably Lloyd will have a chance to talk about that before he leaves.

12:50 - Gordon Gray telephoned. CAH apologized for not having been able to call Gray back last night and Gray said he had been calling yesterday to find out what problems we had with respect to the matter discussed with the President last week when they discussed the Working Group Report and the problems that were unresolved but may have needed resolution before CAH's meetings today. CAH said he spent 3 1/2 hours with Defense yesterday and all but one thing was cleared up. The one thing which we agreed to study further is Defense's idea that full disarmament package should be brought into security discussion at Phase three of our plan. CAH said in the forthcoming meetings there probably will not be many commitments, as such, made. Where agreement is reached as to lines to be taken, we will have the Working Group study further. Gray said after CAH is thru with the NATO meetings, he would like to sit down and discuss this further.

6:30 - Telephoned Secy McElroy about the 10,000 ft. overflights. CAH said we have talked this over here and both Amb. Bruce and CAH feel strongly we should hold-off on another overflight until we can reply to Soviet protest, which reply CAH read to McElroy. McElroy said this makes the point crystal clear that these are our rights and we intend to use them and under this circumstance McElroy said he was quite willing to hold off for the time being. McElroy will instruct Gen. Pitcher to hold off on such overflights until further instructed.
